KEY POINTS

- Above all, we are called to love.
- In the last days lawlessness will increase, and love will diminish.
- We are called to cover sin with love.
- Overlooking offenses can help maintain the unity and the bond of peace.
- Patience is an expression of love.
- Bitterness and withholding love are often rooted in resentment.
- Remember, every offense is an opportunity for grace.

DISCUSSION

1. Our nation is divided completely in half; division is running rampant. Have you found yourself caught up in this struggle?
2. Resentment builds up over time. Have you ever experienced this? What were your symptoms? How did you overcome?
3. From a practical standpoint, what does it look like when love covers sin?
4. Pray as a group that God would increase your love for one another, especially as we approach this election cycle.
